D) Mother and Child Health Care

Under the overall health care system support, specialized support services were initiated to particular segments of the rural population. Mother and child health was one such project. It is a comprehensive health care project to target mothers and young children, with the belief that better health of mothers and children automatically results in better health of family members and the society at large.. We provide medicines for that purpose regularly.

The important project elements are: -

Awareness to the community, particularly to women on health, anti and post-natal care, hygiene and sanitation, environment up keep etc.

Formation of health groups, group discussions and regular meetings.

Health education camps through innovative means to mothers.

Immunization of pregnant women and infants/children, health monitoring of women during pregnancy and after delivery.
